CANNOT WAKE HER UP.

Florence Weinheimer Went to Sleep Tuesday Night and No One Has Been Able to Arouse Her.

Syracuse, June 27.—Florence G. Weinheimer, fourteen years old, fell into a sleep early Wednesday morning from which no one has been able to awaken her. She is the daughter of Jacob Weinheimer, a dealer in furniture, and is his bookkeeper.
She did her work as usual on Tuesday and appeared to be in good health when she went to bed Tuesday night. At half-past 4 o'clock Wednesday morning she passed through her mother's room and looked out of the window. In consequence of a fire alarm sounding, that is the last time she was seen in a normal condition by the family.

It was her custom to rise early in the morning, but at 8 o'clock and 9 o'clock she was still asleep, and when at 10 o'clock she had not arisen her parents became alarmed. Then they tried to arouse her, but could get no response. The physicians say that her pulse is normal and respiration good.
At times she seems to be semi-conscious and sheds tears on hearing her mother's voice. She is unable to swallow and low liquid nourishment in small quantities at a time. The physicians say that her condition is due to nerve exhaustion, and that the case is a rare one.

Total vote cast.....	8,837

If straws show which way the political wind blows there is a Seth Low cyclone overhanging Greater New York.

Out of a total of 8,837 votes taken on the ferries, "L" railroads and Brooklyn Bridge, under the auspices of the National Civic Club, of Brooklyn, Mr. Low received a first choice vote of 3,670 and was the second choice of 709. His closest opponent was the irrepressible Patrick J. Gleason of Long Island City, whose friends rallied in such force that he received over three times as many votes as Secretary of the Interior Bliss. It is suggested, however, that of the 1,585 who expressed first choice for Long Island City's Mayor at least a great many were of the class who always regard a straw vote as a joke.

The ballots were cast by men of every section of the consolidated territory, and it is claimed for the vote that it is thoroughly representative. The details were carried out by J. Herbert Watson and Herman A. Metz, both close friends of Edward M.
Shepard. They acted for the National Civic Club of Brooklyn, which is made up of members of the Shephardite political organization. Mr. Shepard recently declared that the faction of the party of which he is the leader will support the Democratic ticket this fall.

How the Balloting Was Done.

The vote was taken upon blanks on which were printed the names of the men who have been prominently spoken of as candidates, with blank spaces for the marking of first and second choice. The second choice vote was taken to test the merits of the Australian system. The club had 100,000 ballots printed, and early on Saturday morning 150 messenger boys were sent out with them. They were stationed at the stations of all the "L" roads of Greater New York, at the Brooklyn, Long Island and Staten Island ferries, and at each entrance and exit of the Brooklyn Bridge.

The boys were instructed to give ballots only to men apparently over twenty years of age. Each boy had a basket to contain the ballots. The voters as they passed the ballots while on trains and ferries. The vote was taken between 6 and 9 o'clock in the morning, except in Long Island City, where it was delayed till between 6 and 9 in the evening. The messenger boys entered into the spirit of the test and gave out between 40,000 and 50,000 ballots. The result shows that about 20 per cent were voted.

In making the tabulation the vote was divided into sections. The result on the Ninth avenue "L" showed, if straw votes show anything, that Amos J. Cummings is the West Side choice. He received 104 votes and Low 84. Gleason was given 42 and Cornelius N. Bliss came next with 21.
The patrons of the Sixth avenue line gave Seth Low 368 votes, and Gleason came looming up with 132. Cummings received 81 on this line; Bliss, 60; Gaynor, 62; O'Brien, 51; Schaner, 22; Tracy, 74, and 40 were scattering.

Low Less Popular on the East Side.
Low fell below this average on the Third avenue line, receiving 26 votes to Gleason's 167. The next favorite was Amos J. Cummings, who was given 68. Bliss received 21; Fitch, 47; Gaynor, 62; O'Brien, 31; Schaner, 31; Tracy, 31, and 19 were scattering.

The East Side people who travel on the Second avenue line gave Low 119, Gleason, 90; Bliss, 47; Cummings, 72; Fitch, 40; Gaynor, 21; O'Brien, 22; Schaner, 25; Tracy, 20, and 17 were scattering.
Low's highest average was on the Wall Street Ferry, which carries Brooklyn hustlers from Montague street to the foot of Wall. He received 172, followed by Tracy, receiving 21, crowded Gleason, with 17, out of second place. Bliss was given 10, Cummings, 4; Fitch, 2; Gaynor, 14; O'Brien, 8, and Schaner, 8.

The Staten Islanders gave Seth Low 126, Gleason, 95; Bliss, 27; Cummings, 32; Fitch, 25; Gaynor, 20; O'Brien, 11; Schaner, 7, and Tracy, 11.
The Brooklyn vote followed about the same averages, except that Gaynor, instead of Cummings, was second. The district gave Low 517; Gleason, 287; Gaynor, 90; Bliss, 36; Cummings, 52; Fitch, 44; O'Brien, 44; Schaner, 48, and Tracy, 46.
Low received 149, Gleason, 70, and Gaynor, 48, from passengers of the Fulton and Catherine ferries, and South Brooklynites gave Low 260, Gaynor, 40, and Gleason, 30.

Of the scattering votes which were written in blank spaces on the ballots Mayor Strong, Theodore Roosevelt and Colonel Waring received the most, each being given about twenty-five. An exact count was not kept. Others who were voted for were Abram S. Hewitt, Hugh J. Grant, Mayor Ward, Richard Croker, who received twelve; Andrew H. Green, Charles W. Dayton, Oliver Sumner Teall, Lieutenant-Governor Woodring, ex-Mayor Schermer, Edward M. Shepard, Elliott Danforth, C. C.
Shayne, ex-Governor Flower, Dr. Parkhurst, a solitary vote; William C. Whitney, Ferdinand Levy, Channey Dewey, Silas R. Dutcher, Thomas L. James, Augustus
W. Peters, Judge Cullen, George Francis Train and Charles Broadway Rous.

EARL OF SEFTON IS DEAD.

He Was Lord Lieutenant of Lancashire.
Viscount Molyneux Succeeds Him.

London, June 27.—William Philip Molyneux, fourth Earl of Sefton, is dead.
He was a Knight of the Garter and was born in Croxteth Hall, Liverpool, October 14, 1835.
Since 1858 he has been the Lord-Lieutenant of Lancashire. The family estates are about twenty thousand acres. He is succeeded by his eldest son, the Viscount Molyneux, now in his thirty-third year.

"GET IN LINE," SAYS
CHAIRMAN QUIGG.

Platt's Man Friday's Ultimatum to the Citizens' Union.

IS IT WAR OR PEACE?

He Declares It's War if That Low Resolution Doesn't Get a Death Blow.

CAN'T SERVE TWO MASTERS.

Quigg Says if the Citizens Don't Come to Camp Republican Members Must Get Out of It or the Party.

While that (Potts') resolution remains in force the Republican party can make no distinction between a member of Tammany Hall and a member of the Citizens' Union.
They are equally hostile to and equally out of place in the Republican organization, and the attempt on the part of either to vote at our primaries is a petty offence, punishable by fine and imprisonment—Chairman Quigg, of the Republican County Committee.

Senator Platt ran over from Washington yesterday to confer with Chairman Quigg, of the Republican County Committee. He was anxious to find out whether the Citizens' Union had the writs sealed out of them by the machine's anti-Low demonstration at Durand's Riding Academy last Friday night. Chairman Quigg had to confess probably that the Citizens' hadn't sealed "for a cent," that they seemed more than ever determined to go ahead and make independent nominations with Seth Low at the head of the ticket.

When Chairman Quigg came downstairs into the Fifth Avenue lobby after his interview with the "mummy boss," he gave out the following statement:
"No distortion of the instructions that were given last Friday night to the enrolling officers can obscure the fact that a general invitation is extended by the Republican organization to every voter in New York who supported McKinley and Hobart last November and also intends to support the Republican ticket next November to come into the Republican organization, to make himself a part of it, to participate in its primaries, and to exercise within it every right that anybody has.
The Committee on Organization will see to it that any misconduct, whether it be the result of negligence or design, on the part of any of the enrolling officers on Tuesday night by which this right of enrolment is denied, falls of its effect. The committee invites all persons who may be aggrieved to send their complaints to the president of the County Committee. Every complaint will be investigated, and any substantial wrong will be righted.

"As to the ruling about which so much is being said, it is based solely on the fact that the Citizens' Union has declared its purpose to nominate a third ticket independently of the Republicans, without consultation, and in advance of the meeting of the Republican Convention. If the Citizens' Union had held to the position which was so carefully maintained by the Committee of Seventy three years ago, no such ruling would have been made or thought of. That committee was simply a body of independent citizens striving to unite all the various elements which were opposed to Tammany, but not especially in sympathy with one another.
"The Citizens' Union, however, has constituted itself, against much protest and warning, a separate and distinct political party. Its members have done this well knowing that the only possible result of their course is to increase the chances of a Tammany victory. The Republican party, on the other hand, wants a unified and working to bring about a union, and still hopes that a union may be accomplished.
"If the Citizens' Union persists in its declared purpose to fight the Republican party simply because it is a party we shall expect the Republicans who have connected themselves with it to declare against it and to present it in its true light as the ally of Tammany and the enemy of every good citizen. A good citizen should hold dear, if on the other hand, it will abandon its third ticket idea and abandon the effort to force the nomination of a particular individual and seek with us to fix upon that platform and those candidates which promise to bring about the complete possible union of the anti-Tammany voters.
We shall welcome its assistance, accord its friendship, and extend to it our cordial cooperation."
